The screenshot displays a web interface for "Retailer Inventory Management". At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for "Home" and "Product" (which has a dropdown arrow). Below the navigation bar, a large white banner contains the text "Product added successfully" in a bold, black font. The main area of the page has a dark blue background. In the center, there is a white-bordered box containing the heading "Add Product" in bold. Below the heading, it says "Fill in the data below.". There are five white input fields stacked vertically, each with a label: "Product ID", "Product Name", "Image URL", "Quantity", and "Price". At the bottom left of this box is a grey button labeled "Add".
